

Guest Lectures by

Prof. Dr. Nina Morgan

Kennesaw State University

- 1) 30 April 2016, 5-7 pm, Altes Finanzamt
- 2) 3 May 2016, 4-6 pm, PT 3.2.73
- 3) 4 May 2016, 2-3 pm & 3-4 pm, ZH 5

Dr. Nina Morgan teaches critical theory and is Associate Professor of English at Kennesaw State University where she is also a member of the American Studies Program and the European Studies Program. Since 2008, Dr. Morgan has been the Reprise Editor of the Journal of Transnational American Studies, an online journal supported by Stanford University and the University of California. She is currently co-editing the Routledge Companion to Transnational American Studies (forthcoming, 2017). Her most recent works include “Laws of Forgiveness: Obama, Mandela, Derrida” (forthcoming, 2016), a podcast recorded at the London School of Economics and Political Science, “Metaphor and Crisis in Freud and Derrida” (2013); an issue introduction “Concurrency in American Studies” (2012); an essay entitled, “The Freedom of Information and the Imprisonment of Poetry: Guantánamo, Transnational American Studies, and the Right to Know” (2009), and a co-edited collection of essays, Edward Said and Jacques Derrida: Reconstellating Humanism and the Global Hybrid (2008). She has been an editor of the Review of Japanese Culture and Society (Japan) and of Asian America: Journal of Culture and the Arts (USA); she is currently serving on the advisory board of Synthesis: a Journal of Literature and Culture, at the University of Athens (Greece). Dr. Morgan received her Ph.D. from the University of California at Riverside in 1994. She previously taught at UCR as well as at the University of California, Santa Barbara and Josai University in Japan. Dr. Morgan is formerly the national Chair of the Women’s Committee of the American Studies Association and is a founding and honorary member of the Moroccan American Studies Association in Casablanca, Morocco, where she serves in an advisory capacity to the Moroccan-American Studies program at the University of Hassan II Casablanca. Dr. Morgan has given lectures at universities and conferences throughout the US and North America as well as in Europe, North Africa and Asia; her work has been published in the United States, India, Morocco, England, Japan, and Spain.