

ASA Panel

From November 9-12th 2017, the American Studies Association gathered for its Annual Meeting in Chicago, this year on the topic of “Pedagogies of Dissent.” REAF was happy to see so many former REAF Visiting Scholars in Illinois! REAF Executive Director and ASA International Committee Member Dr. Birgit Bauridl organized and chaired a workshop on “Whose Protest Is It Anyway? Transnational Performances, Practices, and Responsibilities of Dissent” —with former REAF Visiting Scholars Prof. Dr. Jean Pfaelzer (U of Delaware), Prof. Dr. Randal Jelks (U of Kansas), Dr. Leopold Lippert (U of Salzburg), and Prof. Dr. Barry Shank (Ohio State U) as well as REAF Founding Director and former ASA International Committee Chair Prof. Dr. Udo Hebel as panelists. Former REAF Visiting Scholars and JTAS editors Prof. Dr. Nina Morgan (Kennesaw State U) and Prof. Dr. Shelley Fisher Fishkin (Stanford U) as well as former REAF Visiting Scholars Prof. Dr. Jeannette Eileen Jones (U of Nebraska-Lincoln), Prof. Dr. Jane Simonsen (Augustana College, Illinois), Prof. Dr. Sherrie Tucker (U of Kansas) and Regensburg graduate student Marina Wudy, currently on student exchange at the U of Kansas, were also among the ASA 2017 encounters.
